Treasure Hunting

My friend William and I found a treasure map together. The treasure was in Cheung Chau. We were excited.

I looked at the map and said, 'Let's go straight.' But William said, 'That's not what the map says.' We argued about how to find the treasure and we did not listen to each other.

Suddenly the map fell into the sea. Both William and I jumped into the sea and tried to find the map. However, the map disappeared. At that time, a shark swam nearby. The shark wanted to eat us. Finally, we swam back to the land very quickly and we were safe.
