A night Out with Mom

Yesterday, Macy and her mom went to Season Restaurant to have dinner, but the dinner did not go well.

First, Macy read the menu and ordered the starter. Macy said she would prefer the Buffalo wings to the garden salad. But Macy's mom said worriedly, "Macy, the Buffalo wings are very spicy. Can you eat them?"

Then, when the wings came, Macy took a wing and ate it quickly. When she put the wing in her mouth, she thought the Buffalo wings were too hot and she wanted to cry.

After that, Macy's mom asked, "Macy, don't eat the wings, I can help you to change for another starter. What would you prefer?"

Macy replied, "I don't want to eat anything now, because I have lost my appetite."

Finally, Macy's mom said to the waiter angrily, "What happened to this restaurant! The Buffalo wings were too spicy! My daughter doesn't feel well after eating the Buffalo wings. You better give us some discount for this meal!"

The waiter replied, "I'm so sorry, I will ask the chef to put less chili in the Buffalo wings and I can give you a half price for this meal. Hope you forgive us." So, when they finished the dinner, they went home happily.
