(What happened next?)

My friends and I went to the country park last weekend. We were so excited for this trip. It was a nice open place so we decided to fly kites. Before the trip, we went to a store to buy four kites. The next day, we packed everything for the trip, we arrived at the country park and it was so windy.

After that, we took out the kites and started to fly kites. Suddenly, a big wind came and it caused my friends' kite to break. It was going towards the stream. We chased after it quickly. It ended up falling on the stream. The tail got wet and we couldn't fly the kite anymore.

My friend looked pretty sad so I gave him my kite. We were all so exhausted. At the end, we went home. It was a tiring day.
