My friends and I went to the country park last weekend. It was windy and cool. Kiki, Eason and I flew kites near the river. We were joyful.

Suddenly, it was getting windier. The string broke because the wind was too strong. Kiki and I chased after the kite. We were disappointed and tired.

Finally, on the way home, we picked up a teapot. When we got home, a dragon jumped out of the teapot and said, 'I can fulfill three of your wishes.' I said, 'I want a new kite.' After that, a dragon became a new and beautiful kite. Guess what are my other wishes?
