My friends and I went to the country park last weekend. It was windy and cool. We flew kites. We were over the moon.

Suddenly, the wind became strong, so the string was broken. We chased after the kite immediately. We were very tired.

Unfortunately, the kite fell off into the stream. We took the kite which was wet. I said, 'What should I do?' Alan said, 'I don't know.' We were very scared.

In the end, I went to the store to buy a new kite. I was very sad because I buy the kite with my own money.
